

CHRISTMAS PARTY PLANS OUTLINED

Committee Decides that Municipal Celebration Shall be Most Elaborate in State.

SOME ASK TO CONTRIBUTE

Solicitation for Funds to Finance Affair Will be Started Soon—(Children Anxious.)

That the boys and girls of Seymour and Jackson county will have the biggest Christmas party ever held in Indiana, is the prediction of the committee recently appointed by the Merchants' Association to make arrangements for the Municipal Christmas Tree in this city. Plans were outlined for the big celebration at a meeting of the committee Wednesday night and actual work was started today. The merchants are intent upon making this one of the most notable affairs ever held in Seymour and want every boy and girl in the county to see the tree and to be present when the sacks of candy and fruit are distributed.

It was made very plain at the committee meeting Wednesday night that the Municipal Tree is to be a community affair. Every child is expected to march upon the platform and receive the package that will be prepared for him. Greediness is not anticipated. That is not the Christmas spirit and by the time the great, towering tree is lighted, with its scores of electric lights every heart in the community will be aflame with Yuletide sentiment. It is hoped that through the tree Christmas in its fullest meaning will be felt in every home and by every individual.

The committee has not yet decided just where the tree will be located. It is its aim to select a place that will accommodate the largest number of people and that will be the most convenient for the program that is to be given. However, it has been determined that the square in which the tree will be placed will be aglow with lights and Christmas decorations. A large archway, electrically lighted, will be built in front of the tree and over the entrance of the arch will appear the words "Merry Christmas" or other suitable greeting. The committee has already learned of the location of several large cedar trees and the one to be used will be selected shortly.

Following the announcement of the Municipal Christmas Festivities a number of citizens have informed the committee that they are ready to contribute to the fund. It is announced that anyone desiring to contribute may do so and that their contributions will be gladly received. There will be a large expense in connection with the elaborate decorations and program to be arranged and the funds will have to be raised by public subscription. The committee, however, announces that in case there is a surplus it will be turned over to the charity organization to be expended in purchasing provisions for needy families. This has been done for several years in the past and Christmas cheer has been carried into numbers of homes by the Association. The funds will be raised for the Municipal Party in ample time so that the charity organization can make its purchases before Christmas. However, the Municipal Party has nothing whatever to do with the Charity organization and it is planned for all the children of the city and county. It is only after the big affair has been completed will the surplus be turned over to any other organizations or committee.

It is probable that tickets will be issued to the children for the sacks of candy and fruit. This matter will be decided upon later after several plans under consideration are thrashed out. The churches will be asked to furnish their best singers for the great chorus, and a number of solos will also be given. The band has been engaged to furnish a concert. The program will likely be held on the Tuesday night of Christmas week.

CASES DISMISSED IN CIRCUIT COURT

Final Chapter Written in Liquor Prosecutions Originating in This City.

PENDING FOR MORE THAN YEAR

William Harper, a Witness, Fined $5 and Cost for Failing to Appear at Trial on Time.

The final chapter today was written in the series of liquor cases filed in the city court more than a year ago and appealed to the circuit court when the two prosecutions still pending were dismissed on motion of Prosecutor Marshall Woolery. The cases attracted much attention here, especially because of the prominence of the W. C. T. U. members at the local trials.

The cases dismissed today were those against John Ulm and John Kaufman. Both took appeals to the circuit court, findings of guilty having been entered against them in the mayor's court. The motion was made by the prosecutor after the cases had been called for trial and the witnesses were in the court room.

The four cases in this series were filed as a result of affidavits being made by an alleged minor that he had procured liquor from the various defendants. In two of them the defendants permitted the court to enter a finding of guilty in order that they might get into circuit court. Accordingly fines of $20 and costs were assessed against each. In circuit court one was acquitted after a trial by a jury and another pleaded guilty and was fined $20 and costs. The evidence in all the cases was about the same.

During the trials one of the witnesses for the state is said to have given different testimony than he first stated to the local police. It is understood that without this testimony it might have been difficult to secure a conviction. Both Ulm and Kaufman were employed as bartenders at the time the alleged sales are said to have been made. The defense in some of the cases tried in this city was that the boy had signed cards that he was of age.

DISTRICT MEETING IN SESSION HERE

Many Churches in Seymour M. E. District Represented at Conference at M. E. Church.

DR. J. O. RANDALL TO SPEAK

Secretary of Evangelistic Commission Will Give Address at the Evening Service.

Ministers and laymen representing a large number of the Methodist churches in the Seymour district are here today for the district meeting held as a part of the Methodist Forward Movement. The meeting was arranged by Dr. Festus A. Steele, of this city superintendent of the Seymour district.

The afternoon session was well attended. The devotions were led by the Rev. H. H. Shelton. The Rev. L. A. LaRue, of Franklin, who was to discuss "Intercessory Prayer and Evangelism," was unable to attend on account of the illness of his father.

The Rev. J. A. Sumwalt, pastor of the Methodist church at Columbus delivered a very interesting address on "Special Days and Occasions for Evangelism." He is now conducting a series of special meetings at his church. He said that he believed that special days for evangelism were beneficial for the church and that his experience confirmed him in this belief.

T. P. Hesson, of Morgantown, gave an address this afternoon on "The Laymen and Evangelism." He spoke from the standpoint of a layman and pointed out the great need of cooperation of the members in this movement. The Rev. W. H. Wylie spoke on "The Constituency Roll and Personal Evangelism."

The principal address of the afternoon was given by Dr. J. O. Randall, of Philadelphia, who is secretary of the Methodist Evangelistic Commission. Following Dr. Randall's address, Dr. Steele spoke on "District Plans for Evangelism."

A large audience is expected at the First M. E. church today when Dr. Randall will speak on a subject pertaining to the movement which is given attention at this time. Dr. Randall spoke in this city two years ago and his addresses were greatly appreciated.

Brownstown sent one of the largest delegations to the meeting here today, between fifteen and twenty having come for the afternoon session.

BANQUET TICKETS PUT ON SALE TODAY

Committee Busy Delivering Pastboards for Seats at Big Commercial Club Meeting.

MUCH INTEREST MANIFESTED

From all Indications, Coming Event Will be Biggest and Best in History of Club.

Tickets for the Commercial Club banquet, which will be held Friday evening, Nov. 12th, at the Lutheran Club building, were placed on sale this afternoon by the committee and from the way they were taken up, a big attendance is assured.

The ticket committee is anxious to get all the tickets out as soon as possible, so that they may be able to make an accurate report at the meeting of the various committees which will be held next Monday evening.

Much interest is being manifested in the event, and it promises to be one of the best attended, most enjoyable and helpful meetings ever held in the history of the Commercial Club. The program which has been prepared insures plenty of good entertainment, while the menu which is being worked up by the ladies of the church will leave nothing to be desired. Besides the principal address of the evening there will be several brief talks by different members of the club, and then the members will get down to the business of the evening and proceed to name new directors and committees and to the consideration of the various propositions that are to be put before them.

The matter of permanent club rooms and headquarters for the organization, which has been a long felt want, now seems to be so clearly defined that it is only a question of time—and a short time—until some such step will be taken. In fact, some definite proposal along this line, may be presented at next week's meeting.

The noon day luncheon once a week is another feature that will in all probability be carried out just as soon as the matter of a club home is settled. It has been suggested that the ladies of the various church societies would doubtless be glad to take turn about in serving the luncheons, and it is believed this would be made a most helpful and enjoyable weekly event.

W. L. Johnson, of the committee on general arrangements, said this afternoon that no definite word had been received from the man who has been selected to make the address next Friday evening but that he expected to hear by tomorrow.

MRS. FREDERICKA HEINS SUCCUMBS TO PARALYSIS

Deceased was Eighty Years Old and Had Lived in Seymour for Fifty-seven Years.

Mrs. Fredericka Heins, aged eighty years, died at 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Hauenschild, Laurel and Broadway streets. Mrs. Heins was taken ill with pneumonia about a month ago but had almost recovered. Last week she suffered a stroke of paralysis which was the direct cause of her death. She was born in Wurtenburg, Germany, November 22, 1834, and had she lived until the twenty-second of this month she would have celebrated her eighty-first birthday anniversary.

The deceased immigrated to America when she was eighteen years of age (Continued on page 5, column 2)

MOORES HILL HAS HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Administration Building is in Ruins and Several Residences in Town Burned.

LOSS ESTIMATED AT $20,000

Students Discover Flames and Warn Forty Other Students Who are in the Building.

By United Press.

Moore's Hill, Ind., November 4.—Moore's Hill College was badly damaged by fire today and a number of residences in the town were destroyed. The blaze started in the administration building, the oldest structure on the college grounds, and it was practically ruined. The fire was still raging at 1:30 o'clock.

Moore's Hill College is a Methodist institution. Negotiations have been opened by the controlling body of Methodists to consolidate this college with DePauw University at Greencastle. The faculty and trustees at DePauw had been asked about the advisability of this move. Moore's Hill College has a student body of about three hundred.

The fire started from a defective flue. The loss is estimated at $20,000. The students discovered the flames, warning forty others in Moore's Hall. The building was destroyed. The new Carnegie Library building was threatened but escaped damage. The students aided in fighting the fire.

The jury in the trial of George Klitch, Jr., charged with a statutory offense, after being out for several hours returned a verdict of guilty last night, and fixed the young man's sentence at 180 days at the state penal farm and a $50 fine.

GERMANY'S PLANS ARE FORMULATED

High Official Says England Must Make the First Proffer to Close the War.

HEAVY WAR INDEMNITY ASKED

Germany Will Agree to Lay Down Arms Only After Freedom of The Seas is Assured.

By United Press.
Washington, November 4.—"When England begins to talk peace the war in Europe will be near a close. Germany looks to England for the close and Germany's plans are already formulated." An official who has faithfully reflected the views of Ambassador Bernstorff since the peace talk first began, made this declaration today and set forth Germany's peace terms as follows:

A heavy indemnity from the allies to pay the German war debt. Retention of Poland which will be made an autonomous state with a customs alliance.

Retention of a strip of Courland and the territory now held by Germany in Russia until the war indemnity is paid.

Restoration of at least a part of Germany's colonial possessions and possibly the return of all.

Germany will give up Belgium which "she does not care to assimilate."

Absolute "freedom of the seas." Evacuation of the Balkans by the Russians.

Complete Austro-German control there.

The power to modernize Turkey without interference.

These terms, it was set forth, are the only terms upon which Germany will consent to make peace. Easier terms could have been made a year ago, the official declared, but these terms will be supplemented by harsher ones a year from now. The German empire expects the allies to pay her war bill, he said, and will hold territory in France and Russia until the bill is paid.

POLITICAL SITUATION IN KENTUCKY IS EXCITING

A. O. Stanley, Democrat, Leading by 2,000 with Fifty Precincts to be Heard From.

By United Press.

Frankfort, Ky., November 4.—With forty to fifty precincts in the state missing, A. O. Stanley, democrat, had today an indicated majority of 1,700 to 2,000 for the Kentucky governorship. The Republican state chairman said he had complete figures showing the election of E. P. Morrow by a safe majority.

With both parties crying fraud Kentucky today had the most exciting political situation on its hands since the Goebel-Taylor race.

GENERAL FUNSTON.

Commander of United States
Troops on Mexican Border.

ENVOY TO BELGIUM
WILL RETURN HOME
Brand Whitlock Granted Leave of Absence.

Washington, Nov. 4.—United States minister to Belgium, Brand Whitlock has been granted leave of absence for two months and is returning to the United States on the liner Ryndam.

It was insisted that the Cavell case and the minister's leave at this time are in no way connected and that the German government has not expressed itself in any way or given any signs of unfriendliness to Mr. Whitlock or objection to his continued presence and activity in Brussels.

It was said at the state department that Mr. Whitlock has suffered a complete nervous breakdown as the result of the strain he has been under since the outbreak of the war in Europe. It was emphasized that his return at this time had nothing to do with the Cavell case.

As the representative of Great Britain in Belgium, Mr. Whitlock appealed to the German military authorities in Belgium for clemency in the case of Miss Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was tried by a military court, sentenced to death and shot because she had been aiding British subjects to return to England. The report of Hugh Gibson, secretary of the American legation of the case was published by the British government and caused a furore in England and the United States.

CLAIM FRAUD IN KENTUCKY

Both Parties Make Charges Against Each Other.

Louisville, Nov. 4.—In the wake of the general election, claims of fraud were made by both parties. With all of the 120 counties reported, the Democrats have a majority of 4,937, apparently a safe lead. A. O. Stanley, Democratic nominee, believes his majority will reach 6,000. Edwin P. Morrow, the Republican nominee, declares he has won the fight and that with fraudulent votes thrown out that the Republicans will win by a good majority.

WILL GO TO THE VERY END

New French Premier Says France Is In the War to Win.

Paris, Nov. 4.—France will neither make peace nor join in peace deliberations until the Teuton forces are decisively beaten. "We are decided to go to the very end," announced Premier Briand, in the chamber of deputies in his declaration to the nation on the policy of his cabinet.

At the end of the session the house rendered a vote of 515 to 1—a vote which showed that there is no opposition to the new premier and to the policy of his ministry. In the course of his speech M. Briand said the allies have agreed on a closer co-ordination between the military leaders of the entente nations and that these leaders are of one mind regarding the course to be followed in the Balkans.

U. S. ARMY NOT TO CROSS BORDER

Funston's Request Not Approved by Wilson.

BRITISH CLAIMS PRESENTED

Damage Asked For Destruction of Property During American Attack and Seizure of Vera Cruz, to British Subjects.

Washington, Nov. 4.—The request of Major-General Funston to Washington for authority to cross the border at Douglas with his troops in case it became necessary to attack the Mexicans, was referred to the White House by Secretary of War Garrison.

The war department received a list of the casualties suffered by United States soldiers as a result of the firing across the border during Villa's attack on Agua Prieta. This list shows that seven soldiers have been wounded thus far, one of whom has since died.

The indications were that the request would remain at the White House unapproved.

Thomas B. Pohler, charge d'affaires of the British legation in Mexico City, conferred with Counsellor Polk of the state department in regard to the claims of British interests in Mexico City against the United States growing out of the attack upon, and seizure of Vera Cruz in April, 1914. The claims are of two kinds—those growing out of the damage of property by the operations of the United States, and those resulting from the seizure, or use of property by the Americans.

The United States government is willing to settle for the latter, but whether it will pay any bills for damage resulting from the bombardment is open to question. It has been found that many of the claims are incomplete and they will be referred back to the claimants for more complete information.

Recognition of the Carranza governments of Great Britain, France and Italy is expected soon. It was intimated in a report from that quarter that recognition from all three powers would be forthcoming as soon as Italy had completed arrangements.

Affairs in Mexico were discussed by the Japanese minister and Secretary Lansing.

SCORE ARE INJURED IN STREET CAR STRIKE RIOT

Railway Company Prevented From Running Cars and Strikebreakers Flee From City.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 4.—The first attempt of the local street railway company to operate cars since the strike was called by the men three weeks ago, was marked by general riots.

The first trouble occurred on a car in the Newton section. A crowd of school children stoned the car. It ran a short distance when a teamster dumped a load of sand on the track and stalled the car. A mob gathered and the crew of the car sought refuge in flight.

News of this attack spread like wildfire and within a short time a mob of 5,000 gathered in the public square. A Hudson-bound car was the first attacked. The crew of four strikebreakers barricaded themselves inside the car and lay on the floor to escape being struck by bricks and stones. The car was badly damaged.

The attacks were continued for nearly two hours when the police ordered all cars back to the barns.

As a result, one strikebreaker, John Stahlman of New York, is dying in a local hospital, another import, William Endig, also of New York, is in a critical condition with a fractured skull.

A score of other strikebreakers, policemen, special officers and bystanders were treated at the hospitals and offices of physicians for cuts and bruises received by being struck by flying missiles aimed at cars and strikebreakers during the riotous two hours before the cars were driven back to the barns. Every car that was started out was badly damaged and in some instances they were wrecked by the sympathizers of the strikers.

The worst trouble occurred in the public square, the heart of the business section of the city. After the first attack on a car at the square, Mayor Kosek stepped into the street and appealed to the mob for order. He was driven back into his office with missiles from the hands of the frenzied mob.

It is said that one-third of the 250 strikebreakers have left the city. The mayor has forbidden any further attempt to operate cars until the rioting sentiment of strike sympathizers disappears.

McCall's Election as Governor of Massachusetts Conceded, However.

Boston, Nov. 4.—Although Samuel W. McCall, Republican, was elected governor of Massachusetts, the size of his plurality is not exactly known. Tabulations of the returns do not agree and the official count will not be known for about a month.

One set of press returns gives Mr. McCall 235,915 votes to 229,312 for Governor Walsh, a Republican plurality of 6,606. Another places the plurality at 4,930. The pluralities of the other Republican candidates for state officers were from 50,000 to 80,000.

Candidate For Governor of Maryland Apparently Is Elected.

Baltimore, Nov. 4.—Emerson C. Harrington, Democrat, has been elected governor of Maryland by a majority of approximately 3,500. Baltimore city has overcome a slight Republican lead in the counties of Maryland.

Harrington's unofficial majority over Weller in the city is 4,543. The exact result in the counties is yet to be learned, but Weller's estimated majority over Harrington was 1,300. According to these estimates, Harrington's majority in city and state is 3,243.

Both branches of the general assembly are apparently Democratic, but by reduced majorities. The house of delegates, particularly, will be controlled, according to returns received, by not more than five votes, in a total of 101. The official returns may change this.

Nobody who hasn't kept a record knows anything whatever about weather as far back as day before yesterday, so every bit of weather we see surprises us.

We'll bet Methuselah said, every year of his 969, after he was old enough to talk, that "This climate sure is changing. I can remember when there was good sleighing every winter from early December to the middle of March."

Maybe Methuselah did not live 969 years. He stayed perhaps in a boarding house and called it a year every time he felt like it was.

MUCH ADLER-I-KA USED IN SEYMOUR

It is reported by C. E. Loertz that much Adler-i-ka is sold in Seymour. People have found out that ONE SPOONFUL of this simple buck-thorn bark and glycerine mixture relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. It is perfectly safe to use and cannot gripe.

NEW POLICY OF INTEREST TO THE SALOON KEEPER

State Food and Drug Commissioner Says "Free Lunch" Must be Kept Sanitary.

H. E. Barnard, state food and drug commissioner, has announced a new policy for his department and it is one that may make the saloons of the state sit up and take notice. The new policy is this:

Any saloon that violates the pure food law of Indiana and refuses to abide by the orders of the pure food bureau will be closed up, the same as a restaurant that refuses to obey the law.

The fact that a saloon keeper has a license to operate his saloon, and that he has paid his money for that license for a year will not save him, if the pure food commissioner decides to close up his place. Mr. Barnard proceeds on the theory that a license does not give any saloon keeper the right to violate the pure food law.

The pure food law of the state classes saloons as food establishments, and they are therefore under the jurisdiction of the state board of health. While there is, of course, a dispute as to whether intoxicating liquors should be called food, there is, nevertheless, a section of the Indiana law that designates a saloon as a food establishment.

Mr. Barnard says he has found very bad conditions in many of the free lunch "dumps" and declares that the pure food laws must be followed in saloons as well as in restaurants and other places where food is sold.

He says his deputy inspectors all over the state will be directed to hunt out the saloons that violate the pure food laws, and that condemnations will be sure to follow.

STANDARDIZING THE KITCHEN

It used to be—"the bigger the kitchen the better." Now it is—"how small and compact can we make it—how can we save steps?" Efficiency is entering the home—entering to stay. Nowadays, the kitchen is always full of standard labor-saving devices. These are inexpensive, practical, helpful. The woman who is not posted about such things is out of date and is doing unnecessary work. The advertising columns of The Republican frequently carries suggestions that assist the up-to-date housewife.

THIS WINTER WILL BE NO TIME TO GET SICK

New York Physician Says "Professional Invalids" Have Suddenly Recovered.

By United Press. New York, November 4.—This winter is going to be a very fine time for everybody to keep well because the drug famine precipitated by the European war has greatly increased the high cost of being ill.

"Some of our best professional invalids have experienced sudden recovery recently and we have reason to believe the experience was superinduced by the prices of prescriptions," remarked a New York physician.

The big drug firms, in spite of increasing prices on some drugs more than 300 per cent., cannot supply the demand because there is no supply.

Quinine has jumped from 30 cents to $2.25 an ounce, glycerine from 20 to 58 cents a pound, cod liver oil from $40 to $80 a barrel, sage from 5c to 35 cents a pound. Sweet herbs, bromides, potassium permanganates, olive oil, sarsaparilla and many other drugs have gone 'way up. Some drugs cannot be obtained for love, money nor influence.

AHLBRAND CARRIAGE CO. TO ENTERTAIN CUSTOMERS

Banquets Will be Served on Three Nights Next Week—Elaborate Plans Are Made.

The third annual home-coming of Ahlbrand boosters will be held in this city November 8-13. On this occasion the Ahlbrand Carriage Company will entertain its customers who will come from four or five states. The two previous "home-comings" have been highly successful but the replies that have already been received, indicate that the attendance this year will be larger than ever before.

Elaborate plans have been made by the Ahlbrand Company for the entertainment of its guests. During the week the visitors will be welcomed at the factory and will be shown the manner in which Ahlbrand "Built-to-Wear" buggies are made. All the expenses of the visitors are paid by the company.

Banquets will be served on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights, the excellent hall at the German Lutheran club rooms having been secured for that purpose. Following each banquet addresses will be made. A number of the customers of the local firm have attended the two previous "home-comings" and have become acquainted with the Seymour business men. The local company has left nothing undone that will make the third home-coming the most successful in every respect that it has ever held.

How to Prevent Croup.

It may be a surprise to you to learn that in many cases, croup can be prevented. Mrs. H. M. Johns, Elida, Ohio, relates her experience as follows: "My little boy is subject to croup. During the past winter I kept a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house, and when he began having that croupy cough I would give him one or two doses of it and it would break the attack. I like it better for children than any other cough medicine because children take it willingly, and it is safe and reliable." Obtainable everywhere.

YOUNG WOMAN A WITNESS

Has Center of Stage In Schmidt Trial at Los Angeles. Los Angeles, Nov. 4.—When the trial of M. A. Schmidt, alleged dynamiter, was resumed, Marie Latta, said to be the friend of Schmidt's, occurred as a point of chief interest. As the counsel for the defense she will endeavor in court to identify certain members of the prosecution as those who haled her before the grand jury and endeavored to force her to divulge information which she was unwilling to give.

Distress in the Stomach.

There are many people who have a distress in the stomach after meals. It is due to indigestion and easily remedied by taking one of Chamberlain's Tablets after meals. Mrs. Henry Padgham, Victor, N. Y., writes: "For some time I was troubled with headache and distress in my stomach after eating, also with constipation. About six months ago I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. They regulated the action of my bowels and the headache and other annoyances ceased in a short time." Obtainable everywhere. Advertisement.

RUSSIANS WIN A VICTORY

Germans Given Set-Back Before Riga and Dwinsk.

London, Nov. 4.—For the second time within a week Field Marshal von Hindenburg's forces in northwestern Russia, fighting for possession of Riga and Dwinsk, have suffered a serious reverse. On the last day of October his troops advancing toward Riga were thrown back across the Missa. The German war office again admits that the forces participating in the envelopment movements around Dwinsk were compelled to retire between Lake Swenton and Lake Ilsen. The former is ten miles west of Dwinsk and twelve miles south of Ilsen.

This means a serious setback for von Hindenburg, in his drive on Dwinsk, now lasting several months. It does not, however, mean a setback forcing the abandonment of the movement against Dwinsk, because Illuxt, eight miles west of the city and on Dwinsk-Liban railway, an important coast supply line, is still firmly held by the Germans, according to the German official statement, as is the village of Gathunowka.

ONE CELEBRATION ENOUGH.

Hallowe'en is a year in the future and everybody is glad of it, except the children. It has been wisely suggested that hereafter the celebration be limited to one night. There is no need of observing three or four nights as was the case this year. A prolonged celebration results in more or less destruction of property. It is the boyish spirit to "go the little further" each night, and the result is by the end of the week crowds of celebrants destroy property before they realize the seriousness of their fun. The police this year handled the crowds well. The officers were on the streets throughout the night to interfere with any work that might develop into destructiveness. On such occasions as Hallowe'en liberties are taken that would not be thought of at any other time. It might be possible to keep the revelers on the downtown streets and to outline a program that would interest them to such an extent that they would not want to carry their celebrations into the outlying districts. The suggestion we believe, is one worthy of consideration and if properly carried out it might insure to the benefit of the entire city without marring the pleasure of the celebration.

EARLY SHOPPING.

The advice, "Do Your Christmas Shopping Early," has been repeated so often that it is expected about this time of the year. Early shopping, however, is a slogan of merit. It is not advocated for the entire benefit of the merchant. Rather it is for the convenience of the customer. There is a real pleasure in buying, especially for Christmas, if it can be done without the tiresome rush which always attends the last week or two before December 25. The public depends to a very large measure, upon the newspaper advertisements for suggestions. Many find it convenient and profitable to prepare a list of persons to be remembered and then from the advertisements select the gifts to be given to each. This, indeed, is a splendid plan, but such purchases must be made while the stocks of merchandise are complete. The merchants co-operate with their customers in the early shopping campaign by displaying their lines in ample time. A purchase for Christmas made now will save time when it is most needed during the holiday season.

The Republican National Committee is more than gratified with the results of the elections this week. Chairman Hilles believes that the returns mean a Republican victory in 1916. He bases this conclusion on the fact that in several states the campaign was waged upon national issues. The Republican party will wage the next campaign upon clean cut issues of business principles.

That the temperance movement is growing is proved by the vote Tuesday in Ohio on the prohibition amendment. While the temperance forces lost their fight they greatly reduced the "wet" majority of two years ago which means that the people in that state are rapidly coming to the belief that the legalized liquor traffic has no place in the American government.

Now that the baseball season is closed and the elections are over the public will have to wait until congress convenes for the next excitement.

BAKER IS JAILED AFTER FEW HOURS OF FREEDOM

Released from County Jail and Soon After Arrival Here is Arrested for Trespass.

Albert Baker, of this city, was released from the county jail this morning after serving eleven days on an unpaid fine assessed in the city court, but enjoyed only a few hours of freedom. Baker is reputed to imbibe occasionally in intoxicating liquors and soon after he arrived in Seymour he went to the home of his wife and is alleged to have started trouble. It is stated that he took several drinks before going home.

His wife telephoned the police that Baker was causing trouble and it is reported that he kicked in the door and broke the glass from several windows. He was taken to the police station and slated with trespass. He has not been living at home for several months. He is said to have admitted that he damaged the property but said that he was "half drunk" at the time.

Baker was to be arraigned this afternoon.

Aid was offered from Muncie and nearby points but before it could be sent word was received that the fire was under control. But again at 4:30 o'clock it became bad but was finally controlled at 8 o'clock this morning and is slowly dying out. WOMAN'S PAGE

About the State Federation of Clubs

(By Mrs. Laura B. Swope.)

Some people are asking, What is this Federation of Clubs which the men are making so much fun of at present?

Everything has a beginning and the time was when the men could well afford to make fun of our politics, but the time almost is and soon will be when all law-breakers will be saying, "The women will get you if you don't be good."

The Federation of Clubs was organized by Mrs. Rose Budd Stewart, of Muncie. At first it consisted of a few clubs. It was almost entirely to the north of the state. The central and southern counties had another organization called the Union of Clubs.

The General Federation (U. S.) had a rule that only one organization could belong from each state, except New York which had so many clubs, and they could only have two, as the Federation of Clubs had already joined. The Union of Clubs would not get in, so it was decided to merge the two, making a large and stronger body. This was what caused the first "scrap" as the men say. In order to smooth matters up for both organizations, we elected a woman who belonged to both as our first president, Mrs. O. P. Kinsey, of Valparaiso. After her came in succession Mrs. W. S. Major, South Bend; Mrs. Grace Julian Clark, of Indianapolis, two years; Mrs. Felix McWhirter, Indianapolis, two years; and Miss Vida Newsom, of Columbus, two years.

The up state women began to think it was about time for them to have another president, so they put up Mrs. Clarke Fairbank, of Ft. Wayne. Terre Haute women put up Mrs. L. J. Cox, of Terre Haute, because she had been one of the leaders in cleaning up the town. Putting two such fine women before us at once made it a little uncertain but we got down to business and elected Mrs. Fairbank, of Fort Wayne, to be our president for 1915 and 1916. Mrs. Fairbank declined the nomination at first because she is state chairman of the endowment fund.

When the Federation was small the officers received no salary, but now as we have many thousand members it takes too much time and too much money for the chief officers to attend to all the duties free. The president receives $100, the secretary $75 and the treasurer $50.

The club dues are not sufficient to meet the expenses. This endowment fund is to pay the officers and meet any other expense which is not provided for. There are chairmen for each of the thirteen districts. We are asked to ask for twenty-five cents for each club member for two years. If we succeed we will have a fund of ten thousand dollars which is invested in order to bring in an income sufficient to pay all expenses.

The Federation of Clubs stands for all reforms which will help humanity to become better in any way.

MARGARET MASON'S FASHION LETTER

New York, Nov. 5.—Hurrah for the garment that leads a double life. It may sound as if it were suitable for only the two faced woman, but indeed all and every woman hails it with delight, the Queen of the Commuters in particular.

You see it's a costume fashioned with a long, loose coat over a short, full skirt, giving thereby the simple appearance of a very smart and modish suit.

But be not deceived! When milady unbuttons said coat the double dealing is at once revealed. She stands forth resplendent in a stunning, semi-decolette afternoon or restaurant gown of delicate pastel tint. A deep facing of the same dark toned material as the coat around the bottom of the skirt is the link between two complete costumes in one, the key to the sartorial situation.

It is deep enough to reach up to the coat when that is donned and effect the perfect picture of a suit, and yet, with the coat removed, the dark, deep skirt-band lends richness to the dinner frock exposed, the bodice of which has touches of the same dark toned material to balance up the second of the two in one costume.

A perfect toilette indeed for the commuter's bride. She can come in early and do her shopping in a fitting and fitted suit and then when fond husband asks her to stay in town to dinner and go to the theatre afterwards, she may accept with perfect equanimity and a perfect frock.

Hubby is always bound to ask her, too, when he sees what a ravishing toilette she has up her coat sleeve. Oh, no commuter's home should be without one of these two-fold blessed frocks.

KNITTED SWEATER COAT

Knitted sport coat in black and white check, with collar, cuffs and cash in white. Heavy muffer in a bright color with white stripes at the ends and fringe of knotted yarn. Cap to match, trimmed with cord and ornaments of yarn.

DO'S AND DON'TS IN THE WORLD OF COURTESY

In the November Woman's Home Companion appears a page devoted to fifty "do's" and "don'ts" in the world of courtesy and good form. Following is an extract:

"Don't seal any social note or letter of introduction given to deliver."

"Don't invite people without consulting your hostess."

"Don't invite a friend visiting in town without her hostess."

"Do leave a card for the hostess when calling on a friend who is a guest."

"Don't accept any invitation, however informal, without consulting your hostess."

"Do await a confirmation of an invitation by the hostess before ac-

SCIENTIFIC DISH WASHING METHOD IS LITTLE KNOWN

Not one woman in a hundred really knows how to wash dishes, says the Philadelphia (Pa.) Record. As it seems to be their special prerogative this sounds extravagant, but it is true. A peep into the sterilizing rooms of one of the big hospitals would provide some valuable suggestions along this line.

First scrape the dishes and then hold each one under the running spigot. Two dish mops with handles hang conveniently near the sink. One of these is the "dirty" mop. With it you mop off the actual food that clings to the dishes and then plunge them into a dishpan of boiling water, which is moderately soapy. Then take the clean mop and quickly rub off the

CAN FRUIT IN OVEN; SAVES WORK AND LITTER

By cooking a few jars of fruit each day while preparing a meal, you save gas as well as time and soon have a large number of jars for winter use.

It is easily and quickly done, and retains its shape, color and flavor much better than when cooked in a preserving kettle.

Cover the bottom of the oven with a sheet of asbestos, the same as used for covering furnace pipes, which can be bought very reasonably.

If it is impossible to purchase the asbestos, use a large pan in which there are about two inches of water. Thoroughly sterilize the jars.

Make the syrup of sugar and water as sweet as needed.

Prepare the fruit the same as cooking in the preserving kettle.

Fill the hot jars with the fruits, pouring in sufficient syrup to fill the jar.

Run the blade of a silver knife around the inside of the jar. (Never use a steel knife.)

Place the jars in the oven either on the asbestos or in the pan of water.

The oven should be moderately hot. Cook the fruits fifteen minutes.

Remove from the oven and fill each jar with boiling syrup.

Wipe and seal air tight.

Large fruits may require about a pint of syrup to each quart jar of fruit, the small fruit require a little over a half pint of the syrup.

In this way you do not mind doing up fruits at all.

Tomatoes may be done in the same way and keep whole.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

If the hardwood trim of a house, and pieces of old mahogany furniture are rubbed repeatedly with a mixture of linseed oil and turpentine in the proportion of two of the former to one of the latter, they will have a soft beautiful polish. The mixture "feeds" the wood, and takes away what one dealer expresses as the "hungry" look wood has when neglected.

Pictures are hung preferably nowadays without long pieces of wire dropped from a moulding, except in the case of extra large and heavy ones. They should be hung flat against the wall; and small pins or hooks that hold firmly and do not mar the wall, may be had to effect the invisible hanging.

To caramelize sugar put in a smooth granite saucepan or omelet pan, place over hot part of range, and stir constantly until melted and of the color of maple syrup. Care must be taken to prevent sugar from adhering to sides of pan or spoon.

After broiling or frying, if any fat has splattered on the range, wipe surface at once with newspaper. It will save much work later.

New Clubs Organized.

The Club Idea is growing in Seymour. Especially is this true of groups of friends who desire to meet regularly to spend an afternoon in sewing. Wednesday afternoon seems to be a popular day for meeting and during the last two weeks several new clubs have been organized. Most of the newly organized clubs are purely social organizations.

Japanese Art Exhibit.

Those interested in the study of art are much pleased with the Japanese exhibit at the City Library. The pictures were obtained from the newly formed Library Art Club of Indiana and may be seen here until Friday, November 12.

Those who have given critical attention to the pictures see the striking difference between them and the productions of American artists. The coloring is different and some of the pictures are in marked contrast to paintings by artists in this country. The nationality of the artist is revealed by his paintings and this is especially true of Japanese pictures.

There is a growing interest in Seymour in the study of art. This is due in a large measure to the efforts of the Seymour Art Club which has arranged a number of exhibits, affording lovers of art an opportunity to see many of the best canvases of famous American and Indiana artists. The local high school is securing a valuable collection of pictures. The Art League has also set out to purchase one or more pictures each year. No picture is purchased unless it is the work of a recognized artist.

Three Clubs Federated.

Three of the literary clubs in this city are federated with the Indiana State Federation of Women's Clubs. They are the Tuesday Club, Friday Magazine Club and Indiana Study Club. The members are much interested in the proceedings of the recent meeting at Indianapolis at which Mrs. Clarke Fairbank, of Ft. Wayne, was elected president. Mrs. Fairbank was supported by all the clubs in the northern part of the state. She has been active in club work in Indiana for several years and assumes the presidency with full knowledge of the responsibilities that devolve upon her. Local club women were pleased with the selection of Mrs. Fairbank as the head of the state federation.

Original Lines.

Mrs. Robert J. Barbour.

The following verses were given in response to roll call at a recent meeting of the Indiana Study Club:

AUTUMN.

The glorious autumn comes sweeping Over forest and field and hill The red and the gold are leaping Through the sun and maple until Ere long Dear Indiana In regal splendor dressed Will rival the wonderful fairy lands. Then we'll dream and drift and rest, Down on our ways Through thy golden days O Autumn, we love thee best.

THE MAGIC TALE.

Oh give me a tale of the long ago, With the little boy here on my knee, And the little girl there, On the other chair. Then the magic will bind us three And we'll all go back where the golden glow Of the fine new world with the fairy show Will fill our souls with glee. For the little boy, it is every word true, Fills the girl with bright dreams she's hoarse to; And for me every care of the busy day Has vanished, is smoothed away. And when at last We have gone to rest, I thank the God above For the children, the evening, the fire, side, The magic tale, and love.

Taupe velvet and opossum fur are used to make this three-piece set, which includes a turban, neckpiece and muff to match. These matched sets are wonderfully chic and elegant when they are well designed. They embody the luxury of fur and the richness of velvet, and admit a greater play of fancy in their designing than is practical for the furrier, who works with furs alone.

Plush as well as velvet is used in combination with furs for making matched sets. It has the richness and suppleness of velvet but not as wide a range of successful colors.

In the set shown in the picture the taupe velvet is very much like the warm gray of the fur next the skin. This gray makes a background for the white and very dark markings which appear in the long hairs. The rakish turban is successful because it is developed in sedate colors. It consists of a crown piece made of a small circle of velvet with a puff shirred about it, and a coronet, which is narrow at the right side but so high at the left that it encroaches

Pies Don't Run Over.

Berries positively will not run over if the upper crust is measured and cut so that it comes just to the edge of the tin, but not over. This leaves a small space for the juice to bubble and the pie looks just as good when baked. Put a little flour and sugar on lower crust and over berries same as usual.

CHAPTER XX.

There still remained the task of winning young Jeb's assent to his plan, and Anse Havey foresaw a stubborn battle there. Jeb had been reading law that winter; reading by the light of a log fire through long and lonely evenings in a smoke-darkened cabin.

"I've Got to Kill a Man!"

Blackstone on his thin knee and called out: "Come in, Anse, and pull up a cheer!"

Anse had been rehearsing his arguments as he rode through the sleek-lashed hills, and he was deeply troubled.

The man and the boy sat on either side of the fireplace. Penetrating gusts swept in at the broken chinking and up through the warped floor until old Beardog, lying at their feet, shivered as he slept with his forepaws stretched on the hearth and the two men hitched their chairs nearer to the blaze. By the bed still stood the rifle that had been Fletch's; the rifle upon which the boy's eyes always fell and which to him was the symbol of his duty.

As Bad Anse Havey talked of the future with all the instinctive forcefulness that he could command, the boy's set face relaxed, and into his eyes came a glint of eagerness, because he himself was to play no small part in these affairs.

Into his heart crept the first burning of ambition, the first reaching out after a career. He saw a future opening before him, and his grave eyes were drinking in pictures in the live embers.

Then, when ambition had been kindled, the older man broached the topic which was the crux of his plea.

"The man that can do things for the mountains must be willin' to make a heap of sacrifices, Jeb," he said.

Jeb laughed, looking about the bare room of his cabin.

"Mek sacrifices?" he repeated. "I hain't never knowed nothin' else but that. I reckon I hain't skeered of it."

"I didn't mean that way, Jeb," Anse spoke slowly, holding the boy with his eyes, and something of his meaning sank in so that the lad's lean face again hardened.

"Nothin' kain't stand between me an' what I've got ter do, Anse," he said slowly. He did not speak now with wild passion, but calm finality. "I've done took ter oath."

For a while Anse Havey did not reply. At last he said quietly: "I reckon ye've got rid of the idea that I was aimin' to deceive ye, Jeb. I told ye that when Fletch's assassin came back to the mountains I'd let ye know. I'm goin' to keep my word."

Jeb rose suddenly from his chair and stood with the fire lighting up his ragged trousers and the frayed sleeves of his coat.

"Air he back now?" he demanded. Anse shook his head.

"Not yet, Jeb; but he's coming." He saw the twitch that went across the tight-closed lips which made no comment.

"Jeb," he continued, "I want ye to help me. I want ye to be big enough to put by things that it's hard to put by."

The boy shook his head. "Anse," he replied slowly, "ask me ter do anything else in God Almighty's world, but don't ask me thet, 'cause if ye does I've got ter deny ye."

"I ain't askin' ye to let the man go unpunished. I'm only askin' ye to let me punish him with the law."

Astonishment was writ large in every feature of Jeb's face. He stood in the wavering circle of light while the shadows swallowed the corners of the cabin, and wondered if he had heard rightly. At last his voice carried a note of deep disappointment, and he spoke as though unwilling to utter such treasonable words.

"I reckon, Anse," he suggested, "ye wouldn't hardly hev asked a thing like thet afore"—there was a hesitating halt before he went on—"afore a fur rin woman changed yore fashion of lookin' at things."

Anse Havey felt his face redden, and an angry retort rose to his lips. But the charge was true.

He went on as though Jeb had not spoken.

"All I ask is that when that man comes ye'll hold your hand until the cote has acted."

"Does ye reckon Milt McBriar aims ter let Sidering try kin of his?" was the next incredulous question.

Two days followed through which Dawn passed in transports of delight. There were the undreamed sights of shop-windows decked for the holiday season, and the crowds on the streets, and the gaiety and merriment of Christmas everywhere. She had never heard so much laughter before, and she found it infectious, and laughed, too.

At last she found herself again in a faded plush car beside Juanita, with Young Milt sitting opposite. Old Milt was on that train, too, but he paused only to nod before disappearing into the shabbier smoking compartment, where he had business to discuss. A man was waiting for him in there whom old acquaintances might have passed by without recognition. It was the hope of Milt McBriar that when they left the train at Peril, any acquaintances who might be about would do just this.

While the Christmas shoppers laughed in the day coach, Luke Thixton received final instructions in the empty smoker.

He was to pass as swiftly and unobtrusively as possible through Peril and go direct across the ridge.

He and Milt would leave the train without conversation or anything to mark them as companions. After that Luke knew what he was to do, and no further conference would be necessary.

It was noon when the train rumbled again over the trestle near the town, and all morning a steady, feathery snow had been falling, veiling the sights from the windows and wrapping the mountains in a cloak of swan's-down.

At last the trucks screamed, the old engine came puffing and wheezing to a tired halt, and the two girls, with Young Milt at their heels, made their way out, burdened with parcels.

On the cinder platform Juanita looked about for Anse Havey, and she saw him standing in a group with Jeb and several other men whom she did not know—but Anse's face was not turned toward her, and it did not wear the look of expectancy that the thought of her usually brought there. Jeb's countenance, too, was white and set, and a breathless tenseness seemed to hold the whole group in fixed tautness.

There were several clumps of men standing about, all armed, and every face wore the same expression of waiting sternness.

A gasp of premonition rose to Juanita's lips as she caught the sinister spirit of suspense in the atmosphere. Then Milt McBriar stepped down from the smoker vestibule, followed by another man.

As the two turned in opposite directions on the snow-covered platform, one of the men who had been standing with Bad Anse Havey laid a hand on the shoulder of the clean-shaven arrival and said in a clear voice: "Luke Thixton, I want ye fer ther murder of Fletch McNash."

Old Milt McBriar, for once startled out of his case-hardened self-control, wheeled and demanded angrily: "What hell's trick is this?" His eyes were blazing and his face worked with passionate fury.

A deputy answered him: "An' Milt McBriar, I wants you, too, on an indictment fer accessory ter murder."

Juanita felt Dawn's spasmodic fingers clutch her arm and her own knees grow suddenly weak. She heard a clatter of parcels as Young Milt dropped them in the snow and leaped forward, his eyes kindling and his right hand frantically clawing at the buttons of overcoat and coat. But before he could draw, Jeb McNash had wheeled to face him, bending forward to a half crouch. The younger McBriar halted and bent back under the glint of the revolver which Jeb was thrusting into his face.

Haveys, armed and grim of visage, now began drawing close about the captives.

Dawn clung with bloodless lips and white cheeks to Juanita as she watched Jeb holding his weapon in the face of the boy whom she suddenly realized she loved more than her brother.

And the Haveys were grimly waiting for them. The Haveys were already there. The two girls could not ride across the ridge now. They could only sit in their room at the wretched hotel and wait, too.

Juanita was glad Dawn could cry. She couldn't. She could only look ahead and see a procession of hideous possibilities.

It had been a few minutes after noon when Young Milt had rushed into the livery stable and ordered his horse. In that one instant all his college influences had dropped away from him, and he was following the fierce single star of clan loyalty.

His father, who had never been any man's captive, was back there in the vermin-infested little jailhouse, a prisoner to the Haveys. And when Young Milt came back, the one Havey he had marked for his own was the Havey under whose pistol muzzle he had been forced to give back—young Jeb McNash.

The stroke had taken the McBriars completely by surprise. The boy must reach his own territory and rally them to their fullest numbers, even from the remotest coves. This battle was to be fought in the enemy's own stronghold and against a force which was ready to the last note of preparedness.

So nothing could happen until tomorrow. Nothing would happen in all likelihood, until the day after that, and meanwhile the two girls in the hotel must sit there thinking.

The little town itself lay dismal and helpless, with its shacks scattered over its broken and uneven levels.

Dawn, perhaps, found it hardest: for in this one day Dawn had grown up, and tomorrow would bring the boy whom she now confessed to loving, though she confessed it with self-contempt, leading a force to meet that of her own people, fighting to avenge her father. Juanita, whose eyes could not escape ironical reminders when she glanced down at the Christmas packages, seemed to hear over and over the voice of Anse Havey saying: "I'm doin' it because ye asks it."

She had sought to avert an assassination, and it seemed that the effort would precipitate a holocaust.

Anse was very busy, but he found time to come to her that afternoon. In the bare little hotel lobby the firelight glinted on many rifles as their owners lounged about the hearth.

And in Anse she saw once more the stern side. His face was unsmiling, and in his eyes was that expression which made her realize how inflexibly he would set about the accomplishment of the thing he had undertaken. Then, as he spoke to her, a sudden softness came into his eyes.

"God knows I'm sorry," he said, "that this thing broke just now. I didn't aim that ye should be no eyewitness."

Juanita smiled rather wanly. Old Milt, he told her, would soon be released. "We ain't even goin' to keep him in the jailhouse no longer than mornin'." We couldn't convict him, an' it would only bring on more trouble.

"Why was he arrested?" she asked blankly.

"Just to keep him out of mischief overnight," he smiled. "Even the law can be used for strategy."

"What will happen when the McBriars come back?" she demanded in a shaken voice.

He shook his head. "I can't hardly say," he replied.

RALSTON TAKES HAND IN FT. WAYNE STRIKE

Governor Names Committee to End Trouble.

Indianapolis, Nov. 4.—Responding to repeated requests, Governor Samuel Ralston announces that he has appointed a committee of citizens of Ft. Wayne to undertake the adjustment of a street car strike, which began in that city five weeks ago.

The men named are: Samuel M. Foster, O. N. Heaton, William P. Breen, Dr. G. M. Leslie, Charles A. Dunkelberg, the Rev. A. J. Folsom and Charles McCullough.

"I shall rely upon the judgment of this committee as to how it shall proceed to bring about a settlement of the controversy," wrote the governor.

The governor expresses the belief that the men he has named are without prejudice and that all parties affected by the strike have confidence in them.

In naming a committee of citizens the governor was careful not to take any action which might affect a contract which is said to exist between the street car company and its employees in which the provision is made that the public service commission of Indiana shall act as mediator.

It was because of this alleged contract and also because the strike question is involved in an action in the federal court that the governor did not make use of the new law providing for the appointment of a board of arbitration to adjust labor troubles.

Sore Throat Don'ts.

When the children have sore throat, don't blister their necks with lamp oil. Don't torture them with a foul smelling piece of fat meat, wrapped about the neck. Don't imagine there is medical virtue in an old sock or piece of red flannel. Don't believe in antiquated superstitions.

A sore throat is a serious matter and is not to be healed by such make-believe remedies. The use of such methods is simply putting the patient to needless torture. Use a little sore throat wisdom and give them TONSILINE and the throat will heal quickly.

Rumbley, of south of the city, and who left Seymour to accept a position in Brazil about four years ago, is a prominent young business man, popular both in Brazil and in his home town. The home was beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums and white roses. The ceremony was read by Rev. Mr. Glenn, of Lockland, Ohio, in the presence of over one hundred friends and relatives of the young people.
